Dear Adil,

This Email is to confirm that I have received the full amount of the six weeks of back pay that I am owed.

Please direct all future communication to me through my attorney. The contact information is:

Ted, This could be a newly assigned collection agency for one of the items on the Debt Schedule. I know I am handling the notices I have received for the obligations I have. This one is not familiar to me.
Regards, Adil

Adil

We have reviewed the debt schedule and there is no entry for National Finance. Our position is that, if it is not on the debt schedule, it is your responsibility.

Please clarify.

Thanks

Ted

Wow. I thought you and jim had a conference call with this guy yesterday to discuss working with Braintech. What's up? Did you guys tell him we were not going to pay him because except for a few netting of payables it is my understanding we are better then current on shafi inc debt payments which would include amounts for past shafi inc employees. I find the timing of this really strange as it is my understanding you have been having conversations with him recently. Rick

Ted,

In addition to the claims and notices that I gave you last week, the attached have been received.

In particular, former employee Mark Pilbeam has refiled his Labor and Wage Claim. He had previously withdrawn in the hope of having Braintech take care of his past wages and expenses as noted in the Debt Schedule of August 12, 2008. Now that he has not seen any payments, he has refiled. You have a short time limit to provide a response. If you need past accounting records, they were disclosed prior to closing on August 12, and Donna Burr and Jean Middleton at Bruce Rukkila CPA have QuickBook records which I believe have been sent to you.

Regards, Adil Shafi
